c. Exploitation of R&D knowhow and results

15. Initiatives taken by researcher for the exploitation of research results and knowhow (short commentary):

Towards the exploitation of research results and know-how, patents have been submitted and exploitable products have been developed (e-learning, e-psychology, e-inclusion platforms). For some of these their exploitation through services provision projects to third parties was achieved, as well as seminars for long life training for various scientific communities (eg teachers, educators etc) were held.

16. Initiatives taken by researcher to establish international research networks in his/her field (short commentary):

A number of initiatives took place to establish international research networks especially in the field of supporting and educating people with disabilities which led to the planning and realization of numerous relevant projects.

17. Initiatives taken to establish spin off firms and their outcome (short commentary):

Effort was put towards finding financing as well as for the formation of a business plan for a new company which was funded by PRAKSE A. Until today, no company has been formed and we are in the process of looking for financiers or considering of selffinancing of some fo our plans for business exploitation.
