

An e-culture system for museums and galleries of Greece and Cyprus

A.S.DRIGAS, L.G.KOUKIANAKIS, J.G. GLENTZES

Applied Technologies Department

N.C.S.R. “DEMOKRITOS”

Ag. Paraskevi

Greece

dr@imm.demokritos.gr, kouk@imm.demokritos.gr, jglen@imm.demokritos.gr

<http://imm.demokritos.gr>

Abstract: Apart from many characteristics of a nation such as its history, its tradition and customs, the most distinctive one is its cultural heritage. This paper presents an e-culture portal which gives to a user-visitor the potential to navigate through numerous museums and galleries around Greece and Cyprus, containing a large amount of information and images concerning them. Although it started as an early e-culture application, today it has been updated with modern web-based technologies, in order to be accessible by people with visual disabilities, by simultaneously adding new features. Its main goals are firstly to make the so-called “Information for All” scheme a palpable reality and secondly to spread the Greek civilization to a global level.